TAFVILLE

Harry Mills who broke his leg a week ago last Saturday is improving rapidly. A number of baseball fans journeyed to Taffville to witness the game between the Taffville team and the local team Sunday in which the former won.

Joseph Lebar has sold a piece of property to John Davis. William Chandler had a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday afternoon when the truck turning car, he was driving was crowded off the road by another car, which struck the truck, and it went down an embankment and turned on its side.

Edward Zuercher and William Hines were week end visitors in Taffville.

NORWICH TOWN

Rev. Francis H. Rose, professor of Virginia Union University, and Mrs. Rose with their children, Miss Virginia and Mrs. Rose, arrived in Norwich Sunday morning. They are stopping at the Hotel Norwich, Va., following a stay during the summer with Professor Rose's relatives in Norwich, Va. Much of the time at his home at his home in Norwich, Va. Mrs. Rose and her children are in Norwich, Va. Mrs. Rose and her children are in Norwich, Va.

At the residence of Connecticut College, Miss Gertrude Avery and Miss Edith Avery of West Town street, will resume their studies. Miss Gertrude Avery is the senior class and Miss Edith Avery is the junior class. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Avery of West Town street.

An older daughter, Miss Ruth Avery, having been graduated from this college a few years ago, now holds an important position in Hartford. The youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Avery, Elizabeth Avery, entered Norwich Free Academy at the opening of the term last Wednesday.

Saturday afternoon a picnic supper was enjoyed by the Drexel class of the First Congregational Sunday school, in the presence of the class. The plan was that the twenty-two members of the class would go by automobile to Gardner Lake and the evening which included a picnic and supper. The picnic was attended with much pleasure. Rain prevented the gathering took the form of an indoor picnic. Each member of the class was given a gift. The picnic was a success and the members of the class were very happy.

Funeral service for James M. McIlwain of Plain Hill was held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in the Sacred Heart church, Norwich, Conn. The pastor, Rev. Charles W. Brown, celebrated a regular high mass. Miss Elizabeth A. Malen was in charge of the musical part of the service. The casket was borne by the Drexel class of the First Congregational Sunday school. The service was held in the presence of a large number of friends.

About seventy-five attended the campfire given by the Christian Endeavor of the M. E. church, held in Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Thatcher's grove, Friday evening from 7 until 9 o'clock. Miss Josephine Rogers was in charge, assisted by Mrs. W. F. Whiteman, Mrs. Richard Carter, Miss Mabel Rogers, Gertrude Teft and Abner Bold. The supper consisted of roasted corn, sandwiches, cake, coffee and toasted marshmallows. Miss M. L. Griswold was in charge of the games. Songs were sung and stories told around the campfire. Lewis tried telling the biggest story, captured the prize, a large bunch of asters.

According to statistics about nine-tenths of the men who commit suicide are married. Comment is unnecessary.

CLAIM PLANT EXECUTOR FEES TOO MUCH

Remonstrance of appeal have been filed by State Tax Commissioner William H. Blodgett and by Miss Catherine Hayward, widow of Morton F. Plant, in the appeal over the allowance made for executor fees in the Plant estate by Judge Arthur W. Anderson of the District probate court. Three of the executors, The United States Trust Co., George L. Shearer and Francis C. Sullivan, were each allowed $100,000, and the other two executors, Mrs. Hayward, the widow, and Henry B. Plant, the son of Col. Plant, were each allowed $125,000. Tax Commissioner Blodgett takes his appeal on the grounds that the fees to the executors are excessive and unreasonable, and that the allowance of these fees unreasonably reduces the net estate subject to the succession tax of the state of Connecticut. Attorney General Frank H. Healy and Carlos S. Hocutt are counsel for the tax commissioner.

In the appeal taken by Mrs. Hayward, seven reasons of appeal are given by her counsel, Judge, William C. Noyes and Paul McGuire and Hall.

It is alleged that Mr. Plant was indebted at the time of his death on several promissory notes as follows: $100,000 to United States Trust Co., $100,000 to Mechanics Metal National Bank, $100,000 to Connecticut Trust & Savings Bank, and $100,000 to Old Colony Trust Co. In the executors' accounts the interest accruing on these notes after Mr. Plant's death was charged against the income of the estate.

Blodgett says that the executors' accounts show that the interest on these notes was charged against the income of the estate, and that the executors' fees were too high. He says that the executors' fees were too high and that the allowance of these fees was unreasonable.

Blodgett says that the executors' fees were too high and that the allowance of these fees was unreasonable. He says that the executors' fees were too high and that the allowance of these fees was unreasonable.

ACCIDENTS IN CONNECTICUT

KILL MORE THAN WAR
More lives were lost in Connecticut accidents during the thirteen days from Sept. 6 to 18 than in the United States during the same period.

The Connecticut State Highway Department has compiled a list of the accidents which occurred in the state during the thirteen days. The list shows that there were 2,000 accidents, which resulted in the loss of 2,000 lives.

HE WAS THE FIRST VICE COMMANDER OF THE

Harold Robinson, No. 1 of the legion in Hartford which position he resigned when he entered the senate.

In the course of his speech of acceptance upon election of the office of commander, Captain Seymour (Aunt) Robinson, the first vice commander of the legion, said that he was proud to be elected to the office of commander of the legion.

The problems of peace, said Captain Seymour, are probably more difficult of solution than those of war and the legion is now looking towards the future of the world for just that solution. Thoroughly as he is in favor of compensation for the men who offered their all to the country, he is of opinion that the present is no time to press for payment of any other than the most pressing claims for injuries, etc., but he looks forward to the time when every man who served in the United States government will receive compensation for his work.

ELLINGTON MAN SECRETARY

OF THE 14TH REG'T ASS'N
The fifty-seventh annual reunion of veterans of the Fourteenth regiment, Connecticut Volunteers, was held at Middletown Saturday, at the South Congregational church. About thirty members of the regiment were present. The following officers were elected: President, O. Chittenden of Guilford; first vice, W. G. Pritchard of Jamaica, N. Y.; second vice, W. G. Pritchard of Jamaica, N. Y.; secretary, K. E. Newell of Ellington; assistant secretary, Albert F. Hall of Meriden; treasurer, George H. Hammond of Rockville; assistant treasurer, Harry L. Symonds of Rockville; chaplain, William F. Hilton of Hartford; assistant chaplain, Nathan Lee, J. A. Broach of Middletown; color bearers, John Gaffney of Greenwich; assistant color bearers, F. J. King of Bridgeport.

Meriden was selected as the place to hold the fifty-eighth reunion in 1932. As the 17th of the month falls on a Sunday it was decided to hold the meeting the Saturday preceding.

ACADEMY JOURNAL PRIZES IN

MEMORY OF DR. P. J. CASSIDY
The prizes to Academy students for articles of fiction printed in the Academy Journal are offered this year by Attorney John H. Cassidy of Waterbury in memory of his brother, Dr. P. J. Cassidy of this city. The first prize is $25 and the second $15.

Attorney Cassidy has made his offer in a letter to Principal H. A. Tipton, who has accepted the offer on behalf of the school. It is believed that this will stimulate great interest in the Academy in writing articles for the Journal which is recognized as one of the best school papers published.

Mrs. A. T. Utley Improving
Mrs. Albert T. Utley of McKinley avenue, who has been seriously ill for several days at her cottage in Neptune Park, was considered Sunday evening as showing very encouraging signs of improvement.

CONFESSIO'N PRIEST'S THEME

SUGGESTED BY GOSPEL
Since three evangelists narrate the story of Christ's curing of the paralytic, as told in the gospel for the Sunday, the Rev. Father John J. Galvin, assistant pastor, preaching at the 1:30 mass in St. Patrick's church, Sunday, when the Saviour said to the afflicted man "Be of good heart, son, thy sins are forgiven thee," suggested the theme of his sermon, "The Sinner's Confession."

Christ, to prove His divinity, confessed the sinner's sins, which is an offense against God, only God himself can forgive sin. Christ, to prove His divinity, confessed the sinner's sins, which is an offense against God, only God himself can forgive sin.

Later in his earthly life the Saviour said to his disciples, "As My Father hath sent Me I send you." Then breathing upon them, he said "Receive ye the Holy Ghost; whose sins you shall forgive they are forgiven, and whose sins you shall retain they are retained." This is the literal authority of the sacrament of penance given the Catholic church, the obligation of confessing sins, binding all who have reached the age of reason, priests and laymen, from the Pope himself down; a release as well as a check on humanity. We are all sinners. Christ did not send us here to sin, but to be forgiven. This is the literal authority of the sacrament of penance given the Catholic church, the obligation of confessing sins, binding all who have reached the age of reason, priests and laymen, from the Pope himself down; a release as well as a check on humanity.

Such extension of penance should be a pure act of love for that Creator to whom man owes everything, of deep regret for having offended God, not alone an admission of evil-doing because one fears to die in the state of mortal sin, thereby losing his right to Heaven. The mass at 7:30 was read as usual by the pastor, Rev. M. H. May, who had the assistance of Father Galvin in giving Holy Communion to the large number who were led to the altar by the members of the Rosary Society to receive the Eucharist, following confession on the part of all the previous days.

POETRY

WHITENESS
Long, long years my heart has wept
Ships of whiteness;
Whiteness of the pear and of the lily,
Whiteness of the roses brides have carried,
Whiteness of the snows in wintry morn-
light,
Whiteness of the thoughts of little children,
Whiteness of the dreams of youth and maiden,
Whiteness of the deeds of men and women,
Once I knew a soul whose white, white splendor
Arched above me like the wings of angels,
Made a chapel for my soul to pray in,
And for the sake of whiteness, I have
And for the sake of whiteness, I have
And for the sake of whiteness, I have

Robes that have been washed in Love's
own cleansing,
And when near the end, how knees the spirit
Unto whom appears the Lord of whiteness,
Him the wounded soldiers called White
Comrade!
Mighty presence, glimmering through the shadow,
May Thy hand, compassionate, unceasing,
Lead me to Thy radiant whiteness;
Marion P. Gould in the Churchman.

THE CLOUD
To be the cloud for which men pray
When earth is parched by high sun rays;
To be a breath of cooling breeze
When cities choke with smoke and haze;
To be a dew on ripening grain
When hot days over the meadows pass;
To be the rain that makes the earth
To be the earth of withering grass!

To be a star when night is dark;
To be a light when darkness reigns;
To be a memory in some man's heart
Of a sweet love for a human friend!

To be a star when night is dark;
To be a light when darkness reigns;
To be a memory in some man's heart
Of a sweet love for a human friend!
